

PRODUCT COMPARISON

Standalone Cyber vs Expiring Cyber

Glatfelter is launching a more robust, standalone cyber protection product for policies effective January 1, 2024 onward. The cyber product is presented by our new wholesale division, Glatfelter Brokerage Services (GBS), and will be available to current brokers who work with Glatfelter programs, as well as to any independent brokers not currently doing business with Glatfelter. The standalone cyber product will be the first product provided through GBS. Below are some comparisons to help understand the main differences between the two products.
